GERMAN CRUISER EMDEN WREAKS DIRE VENGEANCE

TROOPS ARE EXHAUSTED

Battle Slackens in West Flanders.

FAIL TO BREAK LINE

Germans Are Preparing to Renew Violent Attacks.

London, Oct. 29.—The limit of human endurance has been reached in the battle in West Flanders and the fighting came to an almost complete stop. There may have been some infantry attacks and these may continue, but dispatches from points along the Dutch frontier state that the artillery firing has ceased. Passengers crossing the channel bring the same news.

It was this doubtless that led to the report coming from Northern France that the Germans had retired, having given up their attempt to reach the channel ports.

The fact is that the two armies have fought themselves out temporarily and that the Germans' first effort to break through the allies' lines has failed. Neither side could continue any longer, the men having been without sleep or rest for the ten days that the battle has been in progress over ground which at present is a morass.

Opposing Armies Are Resting.

The Germans succeeded last Saturday in getting some men across the Yser canal and then they put more men across Sunday. But the force facing them was too formidable and now the opposing armies are taking a long needed rest.

There is every evidence, however, that the Germans intend to renew their attempt to force their way through to Dunkirk. They are bringing up fresh men and more ammunition and guns, but at the same time are taking the precaution to prepare a second line of defense, should their forward movement again meet with defeat.

The new attempt, it is believed, will be made farther inland, for the failure of the first one was due largely to the bombardment that the troops and artillery had to undergo from the British and French warships off the coast of Belgium.

Losses Are Very Heavy.

This cessation of heavy fighting seems to have extended along the line as far as Arras and the result of it all is that the Germans, while they have suffered heavy losses and have inflicted similar punishment on the allies, are farther away from the French coast than they were at the beginning of the battle.

The small forces which have been left to hold the line from the Oise to the Meuse while the greater battle is proceeding have been engaging in night attacks at different points, the advantage sometimes going to the one and sometimes to the other. It is said that in one of these night attacks near Craonne the Germans lost 2,000 men.

Along the Meuse the French are advancing slowly between Apremont and St. Mihiel in their effort to cut off the Germans, who are holding the latter place.

NOW AMOUNTS TO 1,500,000

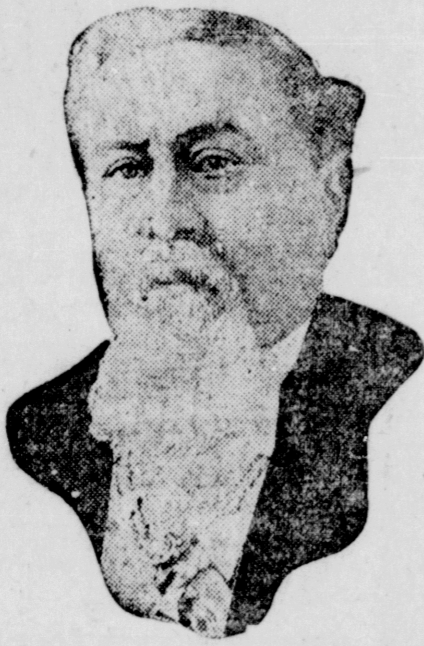

British Army on Rolls and Drilling in United Kingdom.

London, Oct. 29.—The British army on rolls and drilling in the United Kingdom now amounts approximately to 1,500,000. Of this total about 800,000 men belong to what is termed "Kitchener's army"—men who have responded to his two calls for 500,000 soldiers to serve three years or for the duration of the war. About 600,000 belong to the territorials, while the remainder are enrolled with the special reserves, so called, or with the regular army, and have seen service previously.

The territorials are considered the flower of the force, as a great majority of them belong to the middle and upper classes and are men accustomed to athletic pursuits. Both physically and mentally they are considered by military men to be about the finest body of its numbers ever assembled under arms.

ARMAND FALLIERES.

Former French President Is Certain of Victory.

PREDICTS LONG STRUGGLE

Former French President Asserts Allies Will Win.

Paris, Oct. 29.—That the war is only beginning is the opinion expressed by Armand Fallieres, former president of France, in an interview published by the newspaper France de Bordeaux, says a dispatch to the Havas agency from the French temporary seat of government.

"Months and months," M. Fallieres says, "will be required to overcome the military power of the enemy, but this does not produce discouragement in France. Our country has acquired the new virtue of constancy in effort. We certainly shall be victorious for, without reckoning our ardent patriotism and our inexhaustible resources, we have on our side Russia and Great Britain, with their strength and tenacity, and Belgium as well as Serbia; and, finally, we possess the moral support of the entire humanity which loves the ideal of liberty."

COUSIN OF BRITISH KING AMONG SLAIN

Prince Maurice of Battenberg Is Killed on Battlefield.

London, Oct. 29.—Prince Maurice of Battenberg, a cousin of King George and a son of Prince Henry of Battenberg, has been killed on the battlefield in France. He was an officer of the King's Royal Rifle corps.

Prince Maurice Victor Donald of Battenberg was the youngest son of Prince Henry of Battenberg, who married Princess Beatrice, a sister of the late King Edward.

The prince was the brother-in-law of King Alfonso of Spain. He was twenty-three years old.

Feld Marshal Sir John French, the commander-in-chief of the British expeditionary force in France, in his report to Minister of War Kitchener given out Oct. 18, mentioned the prince for meritorious service in the field.

Prince Maurice was the first member of the British royal family to be killed in the present war. It was reported that the prince was not actually killed on the field of battle, but that he died afterwards from wounds received in an engagement.

GRIEF KILLS TWO WIDOWS

At Least Fifty Men Perished in Mine Explosion.

Royalton, Ill., Oct. 29.—The widows of two Italians among those killed in the explosion at the mine of the Franklin Coal and Coke company here were found dead in their shacks. Physicians declared they had died of grief and shock.

The disaster, in which at least fifty men perished, was due to an explosion that resulted when a miner's lamp came in contact with a pocket of gas that had been noted the night before by a mine examiner and marked dangerous.

Eminent Mason Is Dead.

Durham, N. C., Oct. 29.—James Southgate, Sr., widely known as a member of the Masonic order, died here, eighty-two years old. He was past grand high priest of the grand lodge of Royal Arch Masons. His son, James Southgate, once ran for president on the Prohibition ticket.

Special to The Dispatch:—

London, October 29, 11:50 A. M.—News agency advices from Tokio say, the British ambassador was there informed that the German cruiser Emden, flying the Japanese flag, slipped into the Penang Straits Settlement and torpedoed the Russian cruiser Jemchug and a French destroyer in the harbor. Both sunk with a considerable loss of life.

GERMANS PLAN TO FORTIFY COAST POINTS

Special to The Dispatch:—

London, Oct. 29, 2:45 P. M.—The Germans are bringing up reinforcements to renew their attempt to break through the Allies' line and reach Calais. The Allies are holding the line and claim some progress. It is reported that the German plan to fortify coast points held by them with coast defense artillery resulted in the British sending a battleship to reinforce the small war craft off Ostend. The French report fresh successes in the Woevre district near St. Mihiel. Russia is driving back the German left wing before Warsaw. German advices admit that the Germans and Austrians in Poland are retreating.

MILLIONAIRE FATALLY SHOT

Attorney Who Commits Deed Then Kills Himself.

Steuenville, O., Oct. 29.—Dorham J. Sinclair, aged fifty years, millionaire banker, was shot and probably fatally wounded in his office in the Union Deposit bank by Charles Gilmore, an attorney. Gilmore then killed himself.

One of Gilmore's shots hit Sinclair in the shoulder and the other in the stomach. His condition is serious.

Gilmore, his friends say, had been eccentric and had not practiced for years. Police say the shooting was the result of a hallucination held by Gilmore that Sinclair had injured him.

Sinclair is president of the Union Deposit bank and is one of the biggest industrial and realty owners in this section.

CABINET BUSY CN STUMP

Only McAdoo and Gregory Fail to Take Field.

Washington, Oct. 29.—With the exception of Secretary McAdoo and Attorney General Gregory the members of President Wilson's cabinet are in various parts of the country making speeches in the closing week of the campaign. In addition several assistant secretaries are on the stump.

Secretary Bryan, Postmaster General Burleson and Secretary Houston are in the Middle West, Secretary Garrison is in the East, Secretary Daniels has gone to Missouri, Secretary Lane is in his home state, California, Secretary Redfield is in New York for Gerard and Glynn, and Secretary Wilson is in his home state, Pennsylvania, aiding Representative Palmer in his campaign for the United States senate.

BAN ON ALL CODE MESSAGES

Western Union Company Fixes Rule on Cable Dispatches.

New York, Oct. 29.—The Western Union Telegraph company announced that the use in cable messages of codes approved by the British authorities would be limited to messages exchanged between the United States and Canada on the one hand and the United Kingdom and Ireland on the other, beginning Nov. 1.

All the messages will be decoded by the English censors before delivery and are subject to whatever delay this may involve.

DUE TO BRAND WHITLOCK

American Minister Saves Valuable Property in Antwerp.

Antwerp, Oct. 29.—To Brand Whitlock, the American minister to Belgium, is due the credit for saving the cathedral and the art galleries, churches, theaters and public buildings in Antwerp during the recent bombardment of that city by the Germans.

When the Germans approached Antwerp Mr. Whitlock asked the German commander, General von der Goltz, to spare the historic buildings. Thereupon General von der Goltz agreed to use his good offices in this respect if Mr. Whitlock would prepare maps for the German aeroplanists in order that they might direct the firing.

Henry W. Diedrich, the American consul general, then arranged a number of large maps on which were indicated the points which it was desired should be avoided by the German shells.

EDUCATIONAL LEVY UPHELD

Supreme Court Orders Equalization Board to Assess Tax.

Bismarck, N. D., Oct. 29.—North Dakota educational institutions won their fight for the mill and one-eighth tax levy in a decision handed down by the supreme court. The state board of equalization fixed the levy at four mills, cutting down the special levies allowed under the statutes.

The supreme court directs the board to reconvene and levy the educational tax.

GERMAN PRESS ADMITS WAR WILL BE LENGTHY.

London, Oct. 29.—The German semi-official press admits that the war is likely to last longer than it originally thought.

Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent says, "The North German Gazette, in a long article regarding the maximum prices of provisions, urges the necessity to husband the wheat resources."

WITHDRAW IN POLAND

Russians Too Strong for Germans.

FRESH TROOPS ARRIVE

Teuton Advance on Warsaw Has Been Frustrated.

London, Oct. 29.—The German official report issued says that the Germans were forced to withdraw in Poland in the face of Russian reinforcements. This is the first mention from this source of the battle in that region since the German advance on Warsaw was frustrated by the arrival of large numbers of fresh Russian troops.

The Russians say they are making progress against the Austrians, who advanced through Galicia and attacked their left wing, and on the East Prussian frontier they also say that they have repulsed the German offensive from that quarter. The Russians, having had plenty of time, are bringing up immense numbers of men and are therefore able to take either the defensive or the offensive on the long front reaching from the Baltic to the Carpathians.

The greater part of Africa has been drawn into the conflict. It is reported that the Germans have invaded Angola, one of Portugal's African possessions; that there has been fighting on the borders of the German and Belgian colonies in that continent and that the British and Germans have been having more skirmishes.

Rebellion in South Africa. The most serious affair, however, is the rebellion in the Union of South Africa, although Premier Botha, who withheld the news of the rising led by Generals De Wet and Beyers until he himself got into action, seems to have inflicted a severe defeat on General Beyers, completely routing his command and taking a number of prisoners.

The invasion of Angola was not unexpected, for Portugal had declared her intention of helping the allies and, in view of the possibility of a German attack on her colonies, had sent reinforcements to her garrisons. Portugal, if the reports of the German invasion is true, is the tenth nation to be drawn into the war and there still is danger of others following.

Holland is growing uneasy in the fear that her neutrality may be violated. The mouth of the Scheldt, which the Germans, now that they have Antwerp, would find of much service to them, and the eastern border of The Netherlands, where the Germans are massing troops, are the danger points.

The Dutch government declares it is prepared to guard the country's neutrality at any cost.

HOLLAND BECOMES UNEASY

Every Precaution Taken to Preserve Neutrality.

Rosendaal, Holland, Oct. 29.—Holland is feeling the pressure of the war almost as much as if she were engaged in it.

The report that the Germans are massing large numbers of troops on the eastern border is causing great uneasiness throughout Holland.

The alleged discovery of a tennis court with cement nine feet thick on the property of a German in the vicinity of Arnhem and statements that German spies have been active near Arnhem and at other points close to the German border seem to intensify the anxiety of the Hollanders.

A Dutch army of more than 300,000 trained men is scattered at strategic points along the Belgian and German borders.

Rosendaal is the principal troop center, as it is the only railway gate to Belgium open.

Warships Shelling Germans.

London, Oct. 29.—The correspondent of the Central News at Dover says: "The British fleet is operating against the Germans of Belgium without a vessel being struck. A battleship has joined in the bombardment, using her 12-inch guns."

THOMAS TAGGART.

Succ. Newspaper Owner for $25,000 Damages.

TAGGART FILES LIBEL SUIT

Indiana Democratic Leader Seeks $25,000 Damages.

Indianapolis, Oct. 29.—Suits for $25,000 damages for alleged slander were filed by Thomas Taggart, Democratic national committeeman from Indiana, against Delavan Smith, owner of the Indianapolis News.

The suit is based on an editorial which is said to have appeared in an edition of the paper.

According to the complaint the editorial made "false, malicious and defamatory" charges against Taggart.

TRANSVAAL REBELS IN HEADLONG ROUT

Botha Defeats Beyers and Captures Eighty Prisoners.

London, Oct. 29.—The following official statement was issued regarding the rebellion in the Union of South Africa:

"General Botha reports that he left Rustenburg (a district in the west part of the Transvaal colony) on Tuesday morning and proceeded in the direction in which General Christian Beyers with his command was supposed to be.

"He came in touch with General Beyers' men in the forenoon and drove them in headlong rout the whole of the day and captured eighty of them fully armed.

"In the fighting which took place towards the end of the pursuit one of General Botha's men and several of Beyers' commando were wounded. "When the report was made the pursuit still was in progress."

PRISON WARDEN SUSPENDED

Sing Sing Official Is Relieved From Duties Pending Probe.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 29.—In compliance with Governor Glynn's request John D. Riley, state superintendent of prisons, suspended Warden Joseph McCormick of Sing Sing prison, pending an investigation of allegations that David A. Sullivan, wrecker of the Old Union bank of Brooklyn, had been granted improper privileges while a prisoner.

FOUR SENTENCED TO HANG

Actual Assassin of Archduke Is Given Twenty Years.

Sarajevo, Bosnia, Oct. 29.—Judgment was passed on the assassins of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir apparent to the Austro-Hungarian throne, and his wife, the Duchess of Hohenberg.

Gavrio Princip, the actual assassin, escaped with a sentence to imprisonment for twenty years.

Four of the conspirators were sentenced to death by hanging, one to life imprisonment, two, including Medeljo Gabrinovic, who threw a bomb at the archduke that did not explode, to twenty years, one to sixteen years, one to thirteen years, two to ten years, one to seven years and two to three years.

The other defendants were acquitted.

CARRANZA MAKES GRAVE CHARGES

Says American Representative Has Sold Out to Villa.

SENDS PROTEST TO WILSON

Provisional President of Mexico Files Objection With State Department Against Alleged Activities of George C. Carothers and Friendliness of the United States for General Villa.

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 29.—Through Roberto V. Pesqueira of this city, Carranza's accredited diplomatic representative in the United States, General Carranza from Mexico City sent a personal appeal to President Wilson and the state department protesting against the activities of George C. Carothers and the friendliness of the United States for Francisco Villa.

The statement was forwarded to Washington for transmission to the White House by Rafael Zubaran Capmany. It is Carranza's first direct appeal. It is bitter in its nature. The statement reads in part:

"We have every reason to believe that the accredited representative of the American government (George C. Carothers) has sold out to Francisco Villa, alias Doroteo Arango. This is his true name. He has assumed the name of Francisco Villa only for reasons known to himself and history alone will tell what remains his true name of Doroteo Arango may hide. We would like the state department and the American public to know this fact.

"At the very moment that he openly was declaring friendship for the United States he was threatening to invade this nation at El Paso and declared to his closest advisers that he would conquer the nation in a few months' campaign. That when, a few months ago, Arango was declaring that the conduct of the United States was justified in the Vera Cruz matter, he was at the same time swearing vengeance upon this nation.

"I think the Washington administration, and possibly Mr. Wilson himself, should know, in view of his mobile speech and the sentiments expressed then that the special interests that have played such an important part in the American politics and sustained, the corrupt administrations of the past are in league with this same Doroteo Arango."

AFTER MINIMUM WAGE LAW

Winona Man Brings Suit to Test Constitutionality of Act.

St. Paul, Oct. 29.—E. W. Williams of Winona filed suit against the state minimum wage commission and State Auditor Samuel G. Iverson in the Ramsey county district court for an injunction to restrain the commission from enforcing the minimum wage law and the state auditor from auditing or paying any of the claims of the commission. A temporary injunction is asked until the case can be tried on its merits.

Williams alleges that the minimum wage commission has expended $7,329.83 so far. The constitutionality of the act is attacked on the ground that the state has no authority to fix the price of labor or any other commodity on the market for sale.

The act also is alleged to be an unlawful delegation of legislative power to the commission. Further, the law is said to be unconstitutional because it classifies together learners and experienced workers and requires the same wage for both.

MEXICAN REVOLT QUICKLY CHECKED. Vera Cruz, Oct. 29.—A rising of a portion of the garrison at Jalapa was checked, but only after the loss of 180 killed and wounded, according to estimates received by the American authorities here.

"CASCARETS" RELIEVE
SICK, SOUR STOMACH

Move acids, gases and clogged-up waste from stomach, liver, bowels
—Cure Indigestion

Get a 10-cent box now.

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, dizziness and sick headache, means a disordered stomach, which can not be regulated until you remove the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault. Your stomach is as good as any.

Try Cascarets; they immediately
cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from
the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended. A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10 cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good gentle cleansing,
too.—Advt.

"CASCARETS" RELIEVE
SICK, SOUR STOMACH

Move acids, gases and clogged-up
waste from stomach, liver, bowels
—Cure Indigestion

Get a 10-cent box now.

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn,
nervousness, nausea, bloating after
eating, dizziness and sick headache,
means a disordered stomach, which
can not be regulated until you remove the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault. Your stomach is as good as any.

Try Cascarets; they immediately
cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and
foul gases; take the excess bile from
the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended. A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10 cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good gentle cleansing,
too.—Advt.

BAD COLD? HEADACHY AND NOSE STUFFED

"Pape's Cold Compound" relieves worst cold or the gripe in few hours—No quinine used Take "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until you have taken three doses, then all gripe misery goes and your cold will be broken. It promptly opens your clogged-up nostrils and the air passages of the head; stops nasty discharge or nose running; relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffing. Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound" which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Accept no substitutes.—Adv.

THE SPANISH COMPANY

Appears at Citizens State Bank Hall this Evening Under Auspices Knights of Columbus

The Spanish company of the C. W. Best Artist's Series appears this evening at the Citizens State bank hall under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus.

The company includes Antonio Sala, violinist, M. Emile Follmer, tenor, Helen Watson Powers, soprano and Helen Desmond, pianist.

Mr. Sala is proclaimed as a prodigious virtuoso, a real master. In a concert in Paris, the whole house was conquered by his marvelous playing. Mr. Follmer is a brilliant French tenor who possesses a remarkable voice, sweet and sympathetic. Helen Watson Powers, soprano, has a pleasing voice of wide range. The charm of her singing lies principally in her earnestness and clear enunciation. Helen Desmond, pianist, has intelligence, temperament and fine technique.

Stitch and Chatter Club

The Stitch and Chatter club met Tuesday evening with Miss Hilda Carlson. The out of town guests included Miss Ida Carlson of Portland, Oregon, and Miss Mamie Erickson of Deerwood. Refreshments were served and all spent an enjoyable evening. The next meeting will be at the home of Miss Ethel Brandt.

WEDDED IN LITTLE FALLS

Dr. F. J. Sykora of This City and Miss Adelaide Stoll Married Tuesday Morning

Miss Adelaide Stoll was married Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock to Dr. F. J. Sykora of Brainerd, the ceremony taking place at the Sacred Heart church, Rev. J. P. Altendorf officiating. The bride was attended by Miss Delilah Koop of Brainerd and the groom by Dr. L. Sykora of Duluth. Miss Hazel Tourtillotte played Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The dining room at the home, presided over by Mrs. Edward A. Berg, assisted by Misses Rose Gross and Hazel Tourtillotte, was decorated with smilax and pink and white roses and the living room with oak leaves and chrysanthemums. The bride was gowned in brown chiffon broadcloth with hat to match and carried white roses. The bridesmaid wore a Russian green broadcloth suit and carried pink roses.

The bride was born in this city and grew to womanhood here, the only daughter of Mrs. S. Stoll. Up to a year or so ago she occupied a responsible position in the store of B. Burton & Co., renouncing this position in order to enter on a course of training in the nurse's profession. But Cupid, ever alert, frustrated these plans, his interference culminating in the wedding now celebrated.

A large circle of friends was made in Little Falls and the surrounding community by reason of her long residence here, as well as her ability to form and retain permanent friendships in life. With this circle the Transcript is pleased to unite in extending its felicitations and to wish the young couple bon voyage over the matrimonial seas on which they are now embarking.

The out-of-town guests were Miss Helen Sykora of Brainerd, Dr. L. J. Sykora of Duluth, Dr. D. E. Nelson of Brainerd, Mr. and Mrs. John Stoll of Pierz, Edward J. Stoll of Dent and Mrs. T. Stumpf of Pierz.

Mr. and Mrs. Sykora will be at home in Brainerd after Dec. 1.—Little Falls Transcript.

GIRLS! STOP WASHING THE HAIR WITH SOAP

Soap dries your scalp, causing dandruff, then hair falls out—Try this next time

After washing your hair with soap always apply a little Danderine to the scalp to invigorate the hair and prevent dryness. Better still, use soap as sparingly as possible, and instead have a "Danderine Hair Cleanse." Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one strand at a time. This will remove dust, dirt and excessive oil. In a few moments you will be amazed, your hair will not only be clean, but it will be wavy, fluffy and abundant, and possess an incomparable softness and lustre.

Besides cleansing and beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; stimulates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

Men! Ladies! You can surely have lots of charming hair. Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it.—Adv.

COLONEL TO WRITE VOTERS

Roosevelt Will Send Letter to Every Pennsylvanian.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 29.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt completed the third day of his four-day campaign tour of the state by addressing a large audience in the Thirteenth regiment armory here. Before launching an attack at Senator Boies Penrose he declared that he would, between now and election day, Tuesday, "send a letter to every voter in Pennsylvania."

Colonel Roosevelt strongly endorsed woman suffrage.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it incurable, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. WAR PROGRAM AT DEERWOOD

Luther League Discusses European War in Neutral Spirit in Program Wednesday Evening

WM. REID BACK FROM CHICAGO

Attended the Convention of Railway Surgeons—Water Works Soon a Reality in Deerwood

Deerwood, Minn., Oct. 29.—The Luther league gave a special war program at the Scandinavian Lutheran church on Wednesday evening. The war was discussed on all sides in a purely neutral spirit. The attendance was so large that every seat was taken. A luncheon was served at the close. The program included the opening exercises, song, "Just Before the Battle Mother" by Mrs. Victor Johnson; essay "Who Started the War" Mrs. Frank Freeman; reading "The Right Must Win" song "Break the News to Mother" Olga and Nora Skau; reading "Why the Germans May Win" Emily Anderson; song "Die Wacht am Rhein" Prof. Egbert Swanson; declamation "Bingen on the Rhine" Esther Goranson; essay "Why the Allies May Win" Fritz Enlius; song "God Save the King" Rev. Alex. Abbott; declamation "Curfew Must Not Ring Tonight," Adele Palmer; 15 minute speech "What the War Means to the United States" Rev. Abbott; song "The Star Spangled Banner" by children; "War Memories" Robert Archibald; song "After the War" by quartet; declamation "The Blue and the Gray" Emma Erickson; closing song "America." The luncheon was served in the Ladies Aid hall.

Carl Neumann, of Minneapolis, was in Deerwood and on the range this week. His daughter was severely injured in an automobile accident in the cities.

Herbert T. Rogers is doing assay work at the Adams mine where several thousand samples are being examined.

D. R. Vinje, of Madison, Wis., was in town this week.

Ed Dawson, of Montevideo, attended to business matters in town.

The next council meeting will be held on Wednesday, November 4.

The village has installed two water meters. The pump house at Serpent lake is under construction and will soon be completed. Cement blocks are used. The water tank holding 50,000 gallons was finished on Thursday. Water will soon be turned on in Deerwood, and the event will be marked with appropriate ceremonies.

Frank L. Freeman is building a residence.

Sewers are being laid in Deerwood, giving employment to many men.

Dr. Wm. Reid has returned from Chicago where he attended a meeting of railway surgeons.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Ernster have returned from a visit in Minneapolis. Mrs. P. A. Gough was a Brainerd visitor Wednesday.

The Rathvon hotel opens under new management Thursday.

B. Magoffin, Jr., Culver Adams and Durand Hall are shooting geese in the Minnesota & International railway territory in the north.

PETROL SUPPLY GIVES OUT

Oil Is Issued Only to High Officers in Belgium.

Brussels, Oct. 29.—The German troops in Central Belgium have virtually exhausted their petrol supply. Oil is issued only to high officers and in small quantities. The Germans seized large quantities of oil fuel here, but shipped it back to Germany.

The Germans are requisitioning many second rate horses which they formerly had ignored, also horse vehicles.

Letters received here indicate that M. Max, the former burgomaster of Brussels, still is held in Leipzig by the German officials. His refusal to turn over to the invaders the fire department tower and ladders led to his arrest. He said the ladders were needed to protect Brussels.

RULED MEXICO WITH FIRM HAND

Diaz Was Country's Government Many Years.

BEGAN PUBLIC LIFE EARLY.

Future Dictator Only a Youth When He Entered Actively Into Nation's Political and Military Affairs—Forced Out of Office by Madero Revolution in 1911.

General Porfirio Diaz was the leading figure in Mexican life and history in the closing quarter of the nineteenth century and the first decade of the twentieth. He was more than a Mexican figure; his fame was international. Even in quarters in which his dictatorship of a nominal republic was disapproved his forceful qualities commanded general attention and admiration.

After a stormy career in the army and politics in the chaotic conditions in Mexico in the middle of the nineteenth century Porfirio Diaz, a man of mixed Spanish and Indian descent, became president of Mexico in 1876. With the exception of the four years between 1880 and 1884 and in defiance of the provision of the Mexican constitution which forbids the re-election of a president he ruled the country continuously until 1911. Then he was driven from power by the Madero revolution and sought refuge in France. The time since June, 1911, until the present has been spent by Diaz in Europe and Egypt.

Diaz developed a sound mind in a vigorous, healthy body and even in old age was a strong and remarkably well preserved man. At the age of seventy he visited the gymnasium of the National Military academy at Chapultepec one day, and, after watching the work of the cadets for some time with keen interest, he swung on to a rope and climbed thirty feet or more hand over hand as spryly as any of them. Sliding down easily, he said, "Now, boys, see to it that you so live that when you are my age you can do as well." He exercised daily, taking a morning horseback ride and a walk later in the day. He loved horses and was a splendid horseman. He was fond of hunting and other sports.

Diaz's Stormy Earlier Career.

Diaz was patriotic enough to be born on the anniversary of Mexican independence, namely, on Sept. 15, 1830. His father was a Spaniard, but on his mother's side there is a drop of Indian blood. His mother intended to educate him for a priest, but to her great grief he chose rather the law. This estranged his parents, so he was obliged to earn his own education.

At seventeen he enlisted for the war against the United States, but he was obliged, to his disgust, to serve as a "home guard." "Better than nothing," was the contemptuous name given to these militiamen by the Mexican peasants.

His first taste of real warfare was when he enlisted under the banner of Herrera against the usurper, Santa Ana. He was the only student in his school who had the courage to take sides against the dictator then in power. The revolution was won, and Diaz was rewarded with the majority of the town of Ixtlan. There, by his own unaided efforts, he organized the half naked Indian boys into a body of effective militia. These soldiers Diaz soon had occasion to use in his native town of Oaxaca, where an adventurer named Garcia started a rebellion. Diaz marched his Indian ragamuffins to Oaxaca and frightened Garcia into being good. Garcia broke faith, and then Diaz captured the town. For this service the president offered him a money reward, which the young patriot declined.

He also refused to accept a law degree tendered to him by Juarez, the conqueror of Emperor Maximilian, preferring to earn the honor by spending two more years in study.

Then, during Tejada's administration followed Diaz's own fight for power, which, after several early discouragements, was crowned with complete success.

President Diaz Closely Guarded.

Throughout his long rule in Mexico President Diaz took few chances with assassins, despite his personal bravery.

"The shooting of our American presidents," said an American traveler returned from Mexico, "would not have been possible in Mexico, a country where attempted assassination is one of the expected incidents of government. President Diaz never takes a walk on the street or in any public place without secret service men watching over him. Nobody with his hand wrapped up or with his hand in his pocket could approach him without being stopped. One morning a lame man carrying a heavy cane was passing him on the street. A detective brushed against the man as if by accident and knocked the cane out of his hand. He picked it up and returned it to the man with profuse apologies, but while he had the cane in his hands he gave the head a turn and a pull to satisfy himself that it was not a sword cane. Another time an old woman carrying a basket on her arm was stopped because her hand was concealed in the basket. The detective lifted her hand out of the basket and, seeing that it held no weapon, apologized for the liberty."

WEDDED IN LITTLE FALLS

Dr. F. J. Sykora of This City and Miss Adelaide Stoll Married

Tuesday Morning

Miss Adelaide Stoll was married Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock to Dr. F. J. Sykora of Brainerd, the ceremony taking place at the Sacred Heart church, Rev. J. P. Attendorf officiating. The bride was attended by Miss Delilah Koop of Brainerd and the groom by Dr. L. Sykora of Duluth. Miss Hazel Tourtillotte played Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The dining room at the home, presided over by Mrs. Edward A. Berg, assisted by Misses Rose Gross and Hazel Tourtillotte, was decorated with smilax and pink and white roses and the living room with oak leaves and chrysanthemums. The bride was gowned in brown chiffon broadcloth with hat to match and carried white roses. The bridesmaid wore a Russian green broadcloth suit and carried pink roses.

The bride was born in this city and grew to womanhood here, the only daughter of Mrs. S. Stoll. Up to a year or so ago she occupied a responsible position in the store of B. Burton & Co., renouncing this position in order to enter on a course of training in the nurse's profession. But Cupid, ever alert, frustrated these plans, his interference culminating in the wedding now celebrated.

A large circle of friends was made in Little Falls and the surrounding community by reason of her long residence here, as well as her ability to form and retain permanent friendships in life. With this circle the Transcript is pleased to unite in extending its felicitations and to wish the young couple bon voyage over the matrimonial seas on which they are now embarking.

The out-of-town guests were Miss Helen Sykora of Brainerd, Dr. L. J. Sykora of Duluth, Dr. D. E. Nelson of Brainerd, Mr. and Mrs. John Stoll of Pierz, Edward J. Stoll of Dent and Mrs. T. Stumpf of Pierz.

Mr. and Mrs. Sykora will be at home in Brainerd after Dec. 1.—Little Falls Transcript.

GIRLS! STOP WASHING THE HAIR WITH SOAP

Soap dries your scalp, causing dandruff, then hair falls out—Try this next time

After washing your hair with soap always apply a little Danderine to the scalp to invigorate the hair and prevent dryness. Better still, use soap as sparingly as possible, and instead have a "Danderine Hair Cleanse." Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one strand at a time. This will remove dust, dirt and excessive oil. In a few moments you will be amazed, your hair will not only be clean, but it will be wavy, fluffy and abundant, and possess an incomparable softness and lustre.

Besides cleansing and beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; stimulates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

Men! Ladies! You can surely have lots of charming hair. Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it.—Adv.

COLONEL TO WRITE VOTERS

Roosevelt Will Send Letter to Every Pennsylvanian

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 29.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt completed the third day of his four-day campaign tour of the state by addressing a large audience in the Thirteenth regiment armory here. Before launching an attack on Senator Boies Penrose he declared that he would, between now and election day, Tuesday, "send a letter to every voter in Pennsylvania." Colonel Roosevelt strongly endorsed woman suffrage.

PLAN TO REOPEN STOCK EXCHANGES
British and American Financiers Seek Method.

THEY WANT US TO PAY GOLD
Balance Against United States in Favor of Britons Exceeds $200,000,000. We Have Metal to Liquidate Obligation—Treasury Experts Explain Difficulty in Way of Doing So.

In view of business conditions in the United States American business men learn with interest that the British government wants to have the London Stock Exchange reopened as soon as possible. Its views in that connection are being made a subject of conferences in Washington with Sir George Paish and Basil B. Blackett, the representatives of the British chancellor of the exchequer now in Washington, with the idea that the discussion may lead to consideration of the opening of American exchanges.

From what was said in well informed quarters the impression was obtained that the matter would be taken up with a view to an arrangement for the synchronous opening of the London and New York Stock Exchanges and the opening of the British and American Cotton Exchanges. The British view is that if exchanges on both sides of the Atlantic are reopened the tendency will be to restore normal conditions, and that this will be particularly true with regard to dealings in cotton.

Conferences over the international financial and business situation were held between the two British financial experts, President Wilson, Secretary McAdoo and the members of the federal reserve board. These conferences succeeded in making clear the position of the British financial administration toward the efforts of the United States treasury department to make an amicable arrangement for the settlement of American obligations in the British isles.

Britons Want Us to Pay.
Generally outlined, the British attitude is that with all the gold that is stored in the United States treasury and in banks American debtors are in an admirable condition to pay what they owe in Great Britain and should pay in gold as the obligations become due. Some difficulty is expected in explaining to the British representatives the circumstances that surround the possession of this great quantity of gold and the financial embarrassments that would come to the United States if payment were insisted on at this time.

With $1,000,000,000 of gold in the federal treasury and about $300,000,000 more in the banks of this country, the British government does not understand why there should be any difficulty on the part of the United States in paying the balances against it in the British possessions. The Bank of England, with a comparatively smaller store of gold, is handling greater financial problems, according to the British representatives. The balance against the United States in favor of the British isles amounts to between $200,000,000 and $250,000,000, this being the estimate of Sir George Paish, and the British government and financiers find it difficult to see why, with all the gold that there is at hand, these obligations should not be liquidated easily without detriment to finance in this country.

Objections to the British Plan.
The United States authorities answer this argument with the statement that while the United States has this large gold reserve there are obstacles which will make it very difficult to attempt to settle the entire balance in the metal.

The argument has been advanced to Sir George and Mr. Blackett that the gold reserve in the treasury is not available for this use, that it is standing against gold certificates which are in circulation and that the only way in which it could be used would be to acquire a sufficient number of the certificates. Furthermore, the New York banks, upon which London draws in exchange, have no gold to spare, their reserve already having been depleted to a considerable extent.

According to the American authorities, it would mean that the United States in order to settle the present obligations with England in gold would be obliged to resort to the same method that was employed in the recent raising of the $150,000,000 for the promotion of foreign exchange.

There would have to be a voluntary subscription by the banks of the country, and Washington officials expect considerable difficulty in any attempt that would be made to raise $200,000,000 or $250,000,000 for shipment to London.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Oct. 29.—[Special.]—It is fortunate for the Democratic party that the divisions which developed toward the close of the session did not come at the beginning of the present administration.

There were reasons for divisions, but the differences did not become so acute. More than that, the southern men were in sympathy with the administration. If they had been opposed to the administration they would have shown probably the same independence that they exhibited over the cotton question, and not only voted, but filibustered against the administration program. Had the same spirit been shown four or five months previous to the election, it is probable that a different political situation might be presented.

For Two Long Terms.

But considerable credit must be given to the party which has shown ability to keep together during two long terms of congress when they were almost constantly in session. When the Democratic victory was assured in 1910 a lot of political speculators gave them about three months to work together and then a split was prophesied. Instead of that there have been four years of almost constant legislation, and it was not until the end, and when an unforeseen crisis occurred, that a real division in the ranks occurred.

But it happened too late for any effect on the election. It might have changed the personnel of the membership from the south, but the primaries had already been held.

Didn't Like Mexico.

When Assistant Secretary Roosevelt said that the navy was short 18,000 men he did not tell one of the causes. Men who were serving with the fleet down in Mexican waters would not re-enlist. They did not care to go to Mexico merely to sit around on the gulf waters without any prospect of action and with nothing to do. The navy deteriorated very much in consequence of its long stay in Mexican waters.

Will Be Enlistments.

If the predicted hard times arrive—and quite a number of people seem to be getting ready—it is quite likely that there will be plenty of men to make up the shortage in both army and navy. When men are out of employment they seek service in the military establishments. As a general thing it has not been hard to get enough men to fill the quota allowed. Just at present the number allowed by congress is not sufficient to man the ships.

Williams Sarcastic.

John Sharp Williams and Senator Clarke of Arkansas worked together on the cotton amendments up to a certain point, when they parted company. Then Williams talked constitution to sustain his point. Clarke knows law and constitution, and it was over this bone that they seemed to contend. Then John Sharp waxed sarcastic.

"I rose for the purpose of disclaiming," said Williams, "all idea of putting my legal attainments, my intellectual ability or my capacity to understand a question in comparison with the senator from Arkansas. I would as soon compare a farthing rushlight with the sun itself."

There was a great deal more to the same effect, Williams saying that he would humbly suggest that four of the judges of the supreme court had agreed with him and for that reason alone he presumed to differ with Clarke.

If They Had Been Determined.

Many times I have seen men fail to carry out their dire threats when the pinch came. If the cotton men had determined to defeat the emergency revenue bill unless they had their amendment included they could have forced some such action. I once saw a majority of the senate abandon a statehood bill after fighting it to the last day or so and then surrendering. Other measures after long contest might have been defeated by filibustering, but the minority after awhile feels the pressure and surrenders.

The facts are that a sufficient number of cotton members were not found who would stand together through thick and thin and defy the administration and the majority of their party.

Willing to Exchange.

"Buy a bale of cotton," said Congressman Shaden of Texas to Congressman Townsend, the author of "Chimnie Fadden."
"I will," was the reply, "if you will buy a bale of my rejected manuscripts."
"Cotton is worth 10 cents a pound," said Shaden. "I don't know as it would be quite a fair exchange."
"My manuscripts, I think, are worth 5 cents a word," said Townsend, "but I'm afraid I'll have to sell them by the bale at your rate for cotton."

Road Raises $15,000,000.
Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 29.—It was reported here that the Canadian Northern railway has succeeded in raising in London $15,000,000 of the amount guaranteed by the government for its line, notwithstanding the European war.

Wrong Diagnosis.

"I like your face, sir," said the inquisitive stranger. "It is a cheery face, a face with a mission; it is the face of a man who believes in reducing the burden and annoyances of his fellow men. You're the sort of man who believes in banishing the shadows." The inquisitive man went on.

"Nope," replied the little man, with a vigorous shake of his head. "You've lost me this time. I'm the man who puts up the awnings."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Cause For Applause.

At the close of the premiere performance of a recent operatic novelty, one particularly unimpressible opera-goer was observed beating his palms together vehemently.

"What are you applauding for?" asked a friend.

"To show how thankful I am that the curtain is down at last," he replied. —Argonaut

GOTHFRED S. SWANSON
COUNTY ATTORNEY
CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION

To the Voters of Crow Wing county:
In asking for re-election as County Attorney, I desire to state that I stand squarely upon my record, and ask that you compare my record as a public officer with that of my opponent.

I was busy in District Court from the first of May until after the Primary Election, and therefore could not see you, so that the votes I received at the Election, when nominated, were not because of personal solicitation or campaign. This I greatly appreciated and thank you for your support and for the confidence you placed in me.

I believe that my two years experience as county attorney makes me better qualified to perform the duties of the office if re-elected.

In actively prosecuting blind-piggers, disorderly houses, gamblers and other violators of the law as my court record will show, I have enforced the law and performed my duty, and in doing so, may have incurred the displeasure of some. This has taken much work and effort, but I believe that it has been appreciated by those who believe in Clean Government and enforcement of the law for which I stand.

I feel that my stand for Clean, Decent Government, Enforcement of the Law, Justice to all, and Special Privileges to None will be Endorsed at the General Election November Third, because I have Confidence in the Common Citizens of Crow Wing County and Those Citizens who have the County's Future Development and Prosperity at Heart.

Very sincerely yours,
GOTHFRED S. SWANSON,
County Attorney.

Secret of Beautiful Hair

The first secret is a clean, healthy scalp. It is not washed with soap. The strong, free alkali in many soaps parches the scalp and makes the hair brittle, matting and breaking. Mason's Magic Shampoo cleanses the scalp thoroughly and leaves it free from dandruff and excessive oil. The tonic action of its vegetable oils and antiseptics stimulates the naturally slow and stunted growth of the hair, giving it thickness and a beautiful, silky lustre. Hair dries quickly and evenly and is easy to do up. Use Mason's Magic Shampoo for 60 days and you'll marvel at your beautiful hair. 25c-50c per package.

This is a remarkable quinine hair tonic, different from and vastly superior to all others. It positively contains no alcohol. Alcohol too quickly absorbs the natural oil of the hair and scalp, making it excessively dry and therefore creates dandruff and brittle hair. Mason's Magic Hair Tonic keeps the scalp in a healthy condition free from dandruff and by its stimulating action of the hair follicles, aids the growth of the hair. It almost immediately stops the hair from falling out and speedily creates a new and abundant growth. Money refunded if it fails. 50c per bottle.

PLAN TO REOPEN STOCK EXCHANGES

British and American Financiers Seek Method.

THEY WANT US TO PAY GOLD

Balance Against United States In Favor of Britons Exceeds $200,000,000. We Have Metal to Liquidate Obligation—Treasury Experts Explain Difficulty in Way of Doing So.

In view of business conditions in the United States American business men learn with interest that the British government wants to have the London Stock Exchange reopened as soon as possible. Its views in that connection are being made a subject of conferences in Washington with Sir George Paish and Basil B. Blackett, the representatives of the British chancellor of the exchequer now in Washington. With the idea that the discussion may lead to consideration of the opening of American exchanges.

From what was said in well informed quarters the impression was obtained that the matter would be taken up with a view to an arrangement for the synchronous opening of the London and New York Stock Exchanges and the opening of the British and American Cotton Exchanges. The British view is that if exchanges on both sides of the Atlantic are reopened the tendency will be to restore normal conditions, and that this will be particularly true with regard to dealings in cotton.

Conferences over the international financial and business situation were held between the two British financial experts, President Wilson, Secretary McAdoo and the members of the federal reserve board. These conferences succeeded in making clear the position of the British financial administration toward the efforts of the United States treasury department to make an amicable arrangement for the settlement of American obligations in the British isles.

Britons Want Us to Pay.

Generally outlined, the British attitude is that with all the gold that is stored in the United States treasury and in banks American debtors are in an admirable condition to pay what they owe in Great Britain and should pay in gold as the obligations become due. Some difficulty is expected in explaining to the British representatives the circumstances that surround the possession of this great quantity of gold and the financial embarrassments that would come to the United States if payment were insisted on at this time.

With $1,000,000,000 of gold in the federal treasury and about $300,000,000 more in the banks of this country, the British government does not understand why there should be any difficulty on the part of the United States in paying the balances against it in the British possessions. The Bank of England, with a comparatively smaller store of gold, is handling greater financial problems, according to the British representatives. The balance against the United States in favor of the British isles amounts to between $200,000,000 and $250,000,000, this being the estimate of Sir George Paish, and the British government and financiers find it difficult to see why, with all the gold that there is at hand, these obligations should not be liquidated easily without detriment to finance in this country.

Objections to the British Plan.

The United States authorities answer this argument with the statement that while the United States has this large gold reserve there are obstacles which will make it very difficult to attempt to settle the entire balance in the metal.

The argument has been advanced to Sir George and Mr. Blackett that the gold reserve in the treasury is not available for this use, that it is standing against gold certificates which are in circulation and that the only way in which it could be used would be to acquire a sufficient number of the certificates. Furthermore, the New York banks, upon which London draws in exchange, have no gold to spare, their reserve already having been depleted to a considerable extent.

According to the American authorities, it would mean that the United States in order to settle the present obligations with England in gold would be obliged to resort to the same method that was employed in the recent raising of the $150,000,000 for the promotion of foreign exchange.

There would have to be a voluntary subscription by the banks of the country, and Washington officials expect considerable difficulty in any attempt that would be made to raise $200,000,000 or $250,000,000 for shipment to London.

DEMOCRATS HELD TOGETHER TO END

No Split in Party Until Cotton Relief Measure Came Up.

FOUR YEARS OF HARMONY.

Predicted by Many When Party Gained Control of Congress That Disagreements Would Arise Immediately, but Majority Has Steadfastly Supported All Administration Bills.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Oct. 29.—[Special.]—It is fortunate for the Democratic party that the divisions which developed toward the close of the session did not come at the beginning of the present administration.

There were reasons for divisions, but the differences did not become so acute. More than that, the southern men were in sympathy with the administration. If they had been opposed to the administration they would have shown probably the same independence that they exhibited over the cotton question, and not only voted, but filibustered against the administration program. Had the same spirit been shown four or five months previous to the election, it is probable that a different political situation might be presented.

For Two Long Terms.

But considerable credit must be given to the party which has shown ability to keep together during two long terms of congress when they were almost constantly in session. When the Democratic victory was assured in 1910 a lot of political speculators gave them about three months to work together and then a split was prophesied. Instead of that there have been four years of almost constant legislation, and it was not until the end, and when an unforeseen crisis occurred, that a real division in the ranks occurred.

But it happened too late for any effect on the election. It might have changed the personnel of the membership from the south, but the primaries had already been held.

MINERAL LANDS WILL BE TAXED

New Source of Revenue Added to the Taxes of Crow Wing County, First Time in its History

82,000,000 TONS ORE ON RANGE

30,000,000 Tons Believed to be Low-Grade, Commission Meets Again on November 9

"The Minnesota State Tax Commission's blue prints of drillings of the mining companies," said Charles A. Russell, who represented Brainerd and Crow Wing county at the Cuyuna range hearing Monday, "show a total ore body of approximately 82,000,000 tons on the range."

"Of this amount," continued Mr. Russell, "30,000,000 tons is low grade and of the 52,000,000 tons left there is about half that is claimed by the mining companies to be less than 49 per cent dry and therefore not merchantable ore."

The hearing was postponed to November 9 to take up the question of the value of the ore and until that is determined, none can tell the amount of the assessment.

This assessment will incorporate the first assessment of iron ore on the Cuyuna range and will be based on the same system as the assessment of the Vermillion and Mecabi ranges.

It is the first time in the history of Crow Wing county that the question has come up.

DISCUSS THE COUNTY FAIR

Brainerd Chamber of Commerce to Make Effort to Bring the Crow Wing County Fair Here

BOOST HOME MADE PRODUCTS

These Articles to Be Boosted—Gov. A. O. Eberhart to Speak in City November 18

Brainerd is destined to become the agricultural center of the Cuyuna range as well as the mining center according to sentiment which was expressed last evening at a regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce when a vote was taken for the purpose of sounding the sentiment relative to the Crow Wing County fair being held at Brainerd in 1915. The sentiment was unanimous as was shown when every member present responded to a call of the chair. It was also voted to appoint a committee of five to work with the agricultural committee with a view of taking the matter up in its details.

Attention was also directed to the fact that Brainerd had once possessed the county fair but that inasmuch as the present promoters had worked hard and diligently to bring the fair to its present proportion, due recognition should be given this fact. It was also pointed out that a much more attractive exposition would have to be arranged for here if the necessary crowds for its support were to be attracted.

It was shown that tributary agricultural territory to Brainerd had been a big factor in stimulating interest in the present county fair while the attendance was larger on Brainerd day than on any others. This in itself should be a big endorsement for this city and vicinity.

The work which has been undertaken by some of the committees and the progress being made was outlined by the secretary. Reference was also made to the condition of the roads west of Brainerd. The advisability of the proper committee taking the matter up was discussed with the result that the matter was referred to the county and goods roads committee for attention.

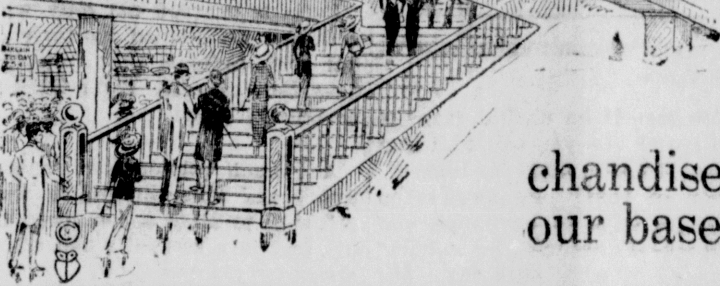

Attention was called to the practicability of maintaining an employment bureau as a department of the organization and the secretary was instructed to look into the matter and report at the next meeting.

An effort is also to be made to encourage all merchants to boost for home products. At a former meeting the organization went on record as strongly favoring home made products and merchants generally are now to be solicited in the hopes that Brainerd Made Goods will be pushed in preference to all others.

Announcement was made that a member of the State Economy & Efficiency Commission would address the members on the evening of November 18th together with Governor A. O. Eberhart who appointed the commission. Members and their friends are to be invited to attend.

FOR NEW COURT HOUSE AND JAIL

Voters of County Given the Opportunity to Express Sentiments on November 3rd

OLD BUILDINGS INADEQUATE

Farmers will Not be Burdened with Additional Taxes, Mining Properties Paying Most

By the Publicity Committee, Chamber of Commerce, Brainerd, Minn.

The voters of Crow Wing county will be given an opportunity for expression of sentiment on November 3rd next, which will probably settle, for a period of years, whether or not bonds shall be issued and sold with which to build a new court house and jail at Brainerd. The present structure, which carries the cognomen of a court house and jail, has decorated its present site for a period of over thirty years having been built when the population of Crow Wing county was less than 5000 with an assessed valuation on the county of but $1,500,000. Is there then any good reason why a new court house should not be voted for? Some say, yes, others no. In which class are you; that of the standpatter, or that of the progressive citizen. Your vote must be the answer.

Quoting from an article recently published in a Crow Wing county paper, the Board of County Commissioners in submitting the question to the voters were not only acting within their authority but only thus could they show justice to all and thereby avoid the responsibility of possibly repressing or overriding a wish of the majority.

In these columns the question will be reviewed by one who has no other motive than that of a voter who stands for progress, efficiency in all county departments and common sense economy in the expenditure of county funds. In the review certain facts and statistics will be given upon which voters must rely to a large degree whether or not they are justified in the stand they may be taking.

The fact is very evident, from the point of view of an onlooker, that a new court house and jail is not only badly needed but is a real necessity and will become a greater one if the county progresses as it has done in the past. This statement is substantiated when reference is made to the inadequacy of the present quarters of the county offices. True it is that the rooms now occupied could still be used with a certain degree of efficiency; so can an old farm implement provided the necessary tinkering is done and the needed repairs made, but certainly neither the offices or the farm implement can be used economically or the best results obtained if a larger field is to be cultivated or a larger community served. Certain it is also that this condition of affairs is now faced by the county of Crow Wing.

One fact which voters find it difficult to solve, nor have they heard it explained in an understanding way, is the point that the present court house and jail bonds have never been paid for or taken up. According to records now on file an adequate sinking fund has been provided which will absorb each year a certain proportion of the remaining indebtedness of $39,000. This sinking fund which has been created, must necessarily be paid into by the present tax payers of the county irrespective of whether or not additional bonds are voted. A good point to be kept in mind and one that is self proven, is the fact that if bonds are voted at this time the present generation of tax payers will not be called upon to pay them. It seems proper here to call attention to a point that is of paramount importance. If the bonds are favorably voted the first duty of the commissioners would be to perfect some plan whereby the indebtedness against the present court house and jail could be wiped out. There has been a wide variance of opinion as to the proper plan to pursue but the one which seems to meet with greatest favor is that of offering the state the opportunity of establishing an experimental station or agricultural school at Brainerd. For a long time the state has given much attention to this section and no doubt the proposition would be looked upon with favor when presented. Crow Wing county could then well be proud of its action and the point is certainly worthy of much thought and effort.

Bonds if issued and put upon the market for sale, would not be particularly inviting to purchasers of this class of paper unless they were twenty or thirty year refunding bonds bearing a rate of interest commensurate with the security offered. At the maturity of those bonds the assessed valuation of the county would be far in excess of that of today while the tax levy would be distributed among a greater number of tax payers. Therefore with the steady progress that the county is making the individual levy would be very small.

According to a resolution, offered by Alderman Mahlum of the common council of Brainerd, at a recent meeting of that body, a request was made of the State Tax Commission to affix a value on the iron ore properties within the city of Brainerd on an approximate parity with the various other iron ore lands within the county as finally established by the commission. This request is being given favorable consideration with more than an equal chance that all merchantable iron ore tracts will be assessed according to drill hole tests shown on the blue prints now on file at the office of the Commission. Crow Wing county farmers should be much interested in the action of the Commission and watch the papers closely.

Crow Wing county farmers should be much interested in the action of the Commission and watch the papers closely.

According to figure now on file and which can be verified by anyone interested, the old assessed valuation gave Brainerd $2,500,000 while the county has an $8,000,000 assessed valuation. With the added mineral taxation the county figures would rise to approximately $22,000,000 and this being the fact, it would seem that only about two fifths of the taxes to be levied for a new court house and jail would be on farm lands while the balance or three fifths must necessarily be borne by the mineral properties. In other words the court house would be largely paid for by the owners of mineral lands and not by the farmers.

A point which has been given considerable attention and of late has been the seed of many heated discussions, is the fact that if bonds were not looked upon favorably at this election the county seat might be lost to Brainerd. The point to which particular attention was called seemed to be the chance of some other section or community of the county offering a bonus or other consideration if the county seat would be moved to their respective vicinity. This seems a rather random shot and one which probably results from over-enthusiasm. There is no doubt, nevertheless, that some consideration would be given such an offer and especially by the country voters but the fact still remains that before the removal could be accomplished the question would be submitted to the voters at a regular or special election. The statement is ventured that no tax payer could be sufficiently hood-winked by any such argument to force the county into making an additional expenditure and losing to the largest city in the county that which it has a right to call its own.

No better argument can be offered in behalf of the bonds than the two facts set forth. First, that the farmers will not be burdened with additional taxes because of the issuance of bonds but that the mining properties will, and second that the present generation will bear but a small percentage of the burden of a sinking fund for the payment of these bonds.

82,000,000 TONS ORE ON RANGE

30,000,000 Tons Believed to be Low-Grade, Commission Meets Again on November 9

"The Minnesota State Tax Commission's blue prints of drillings of the mining companies," said Charles A. Russell, who represented Brainerd and Crow Wing county at the Cuyuna range hearing Monday, "show a total ore body of approximately 82,000,000 tons on the range."

"Of this amount," continued Mr. Russell, "30,000,000 tons is low grade and of the 52,000,000 tons left there is about half that is claimed by the mining companies to be less than 49 per cent dry and therefore not merchantable ore."

The hearing was postponed to November 9 to take up the question of the value of the ore and until that is determined, none can tell the amount of the assessment.

This assessment will incorporate the first assessment of iron ore on the Cuyuna range and will be based on the same system as the assessment of the Vermillion and Mecabi ranges.

CHAPTER XXVII.

The Ring.

There was the last vehicle to swing between the gates before these last were closed.

And this was quite as well; for Alan, rising for one last backward glance through the rear window, started involuntarily and choked upon an exclamation when he descried a powerful touring car tearing madly toward the ferry-house, its one passenger half rising from the front seat, beside the driver, and exhibiting a countenance purple with congested chagrin as he saw his car barred out of the carriage entrance.

Quickly sensitive to his emotion, the girl caught nervously at Alan's hand. "What is it, dear?"

"Marrophat," he snapped. She uttered a hushed cry of dismay. "Don't be alarmed, however," he hastened to comfort her. "He's lost the race; the gates are shut—even the passenger gates—and there must be a company spotter somewhere near by for the gateman is virtuously refusing to be bribed by a roll of money as thick as my wrist!"

At that instant the taxicab rolled aboard the ferry-boat; the deck gates were closed; a hoarse whistle rent the roaring silence of the city; winches rattled and chains clanked; and the boat went ponderously out of its slip. "So much for Mr. Marrophat!" Alan crowed, sitting down. "Foiled again! He can't stop us now!"

"Perhaps
"Why that perhaps? Why that tone?" he demanded sharply, struck by the foreboding her accents confessed.

"This isn't the only ferry. There's the Pennsylvania and the Lackawanna—and by hard driving he might even manage to catch the boat that connects with this from the Christopher street ferry of the Erie!"

"Impossible! I don't believe it! I won't!"

"Let's not," she agreed. "But, Alan—"

"Yes?"

"Promise me—if he should manage to catch up with us—you won't let him talk to you. I mean, don't let him—"

"No fear of that!" he asserted hotly. "If he tries to exchange one word with me—I only wish he would!"

She seemed satisfied with that; but the incident had served appreciably to chill their spirits. They accomplished the remainder of that voyage in a silence that was no less depressed because they sat hand in hand throughout.

Nor was their taxicab three minutes out of the ferry house on the Jersey shore—though the chauffeur, stimulated by Alan's extravagant promises, was doing his best to fracture the speed laws and escape arrest—when the girl's fears were amply justified; a shout from behind drew Alan's head out of the window on one side and the girl's on the other and proved to both that Marrophat had indeed found some way to make the crossing without great delay.

His touring car was within fifty yards when they first were aware of it; and Marrophat, standing on the running-board, was shouting inarticulately and flourishing an imperative hand; while the distance between of an up-and-down-looking tenement, before the cab took a corner on two wheels

"Not seriously injured, I fancy," he told the girl in response to her eager look. "Worse luck!" he added gloomily.

But it seemed that he was to have greater cause than this to complain of his luck, before that ride was ended. Three blocks further on a tire blew out with a report like a cannon-cracker, and the taxi lurched perilously, hesitated, slowed down, and limped dejectedly to the curb.

Alan and the chauffeur piled out in the same instant, the one standing guard—with an eye out as well for another cab—while the other assessed damages.

"Nothing for it but a new tire, sir," this last reported sympathetically. "It must have been a broken bottle or something like that—it sure did rip the usefulness clean out of that shoe."

"Go to it," Alan advised him tersely; "and if you make a quick job of it, I'll stand the cost of the new tire."

"But if another cab comes along while you're at it you'll lose us as quick as a wink. Here's my card, in case we have to desert you in a hurry; you understand this is a matter of life and death, and I'll pave no time to settle up with you. But you can call at Mr. Digby's office and he'll fix things up to your satisfaction."

The man took the card and after a glance at the name touched his hat with more noticeable respect.

"All right, Mr. Law," he agreed; "anything you say." And forthwith got to work.

The rapidity with which he completed the change of tires proved him an excellent chauffeur, an adept at his craft; but the delay was one disastrous for all that. It worked together with what Alan pardonably described as the devil's own luck to bring the touring car in sight at the precise moment when the chauffeur was cranking up and Alan on the point of re-entering the cab. And though they were off again before Alan could close the door, the attempt was hopeless from the start.

them was momentarily growing less noticeable.

As Marrophat's car drew abreast Alan nodded and said quietly: "Don't be alarmed; I can attend to this gentleman single-handed."

And this he proceeded to demonstrate with admirable ease, even though called upon to do so far sooner than he had thought to be—thanks to Marrophat's hair-brained precipitancy. For, failing to influence the taxi driver by shouted demands or threats, or to gain the least attention from Alan, Trine's first lieutenant abruptly and surprisingly took his life in his hands and in one wild bound bridged the distance between the two flying cars and landed on the taxi's running-board.

Stop! he screamed madly. "Stop, I say! You don't know what you're doing! Let me tell you—"

He got that far but no farther. In the same breath Alan had flung wide the door and was at the fellow's throat. There was a struggle of negligible duration; Marrophat was in no way his antagonist's match; within three seconds he threw out both hands, clutched helplessly at the framework of the cab, and fell heavily to the street.

The taxi sped on without pause, its driver deaf to the hails of innocent if indignant bystanders. Alan pulled himself together and looked back just in time to catch a glimpse of a number of loafers lifting Marrophat to his feet and helping him to the sidewalk.

Queer Things That Turn Up In the News

Russian officers are so recklessly brave, a Petrograd dispatch says, the czar has requested them to be more careful because he needs all their lives.

Paris is overrun not only with dogs and cats abandoned by their owners, but with animals that followed refugees into the city from Belgium and northern France.

A French soldier was sentenced to five years' labor on public works for refusing to obey a command to wash his feet in a stream when all the others in his command did.

Hugh Turner Salt of St. Louis asked the court to change his name to Turner. "Everybody I know gets too fresh with me," he said. "I'm the pun of St. Louis. At the office they yell at me to put more pepper into my work, and every time I go in swimming some alleged wit refers to the prospect for sea bathing."

TO TAKE GOETHALS' PLACE.

Washington Believes Chester Harding Will Rule Canal Zone.

That Engineer Commissioner Chester Harding, whose transfer to the canal zone Oct. 31 as assistant to Governor Goethals was officially ordered in Washington, is being groomed by the war department as successor to Governor Goethals in the near future became known, says the Washington Post, and did much to reconcile friends and associates of the engineer executive of the district to his transfer from his present post.

Colonel Harding is to be engineer of maintenance of the canal and will be right hand man to Governor Goethals, acting as assistant governor in the latter's absence. It is understood that Colonel Goethals expects to retire from the governorship of the canal zone in the near future, and that Colonel Harding will succeed him. Colonel Harding was engineer in charge of the Atlantic division of the canal for five years during its construction, and is familiar with all of the details of the work.

Born in Mississippi in 1866, Colonel Harding was appointed to West Point from Alabama in 1885, and on graduation he was assigned to the engineer corps as second lieutenant. He was commissioned second lieutenant in 1890, first lieutenant in 1895, captain in 1898 and major in 1906. He was made lieutenant colonel, his present rank, in February, 1913, after his appointment by President Taft as engineer commissioner of the district.

Colonel Harding expects to leave for Panama shortly after being relieved as commissioner.

That Wonderful Event

IF THERE is a time above all times when a woman should be in perfect physical condition it is the time previous to the coming of her babe. During this period many women suffer from headache, sleeplessness, pains of various description, poor appetite, and a host of other ailments which should be eliminated in justice to the new life about to be ushered into this world.

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION is a scientific medicine carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to the needs and requirements of woman's delicate system. It has been recommended for over forty years as a remedy for those peculiar ailments which make their appearance during "the expectant" period. Motherhood is made easier by its use. Thousands of women have been benefited by this great medicine.

Your druggist can supply you in liquid or tablet form, or you can send 50 one-cent stamps for a trial box of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription Tablets, to Dr. Pierce, at Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo.

It is your privilege to write to Dr. Pierce for advice, and it will be gladly given free of charge. Of course all communications are confidential.
